

M'CRAY FOUND GUILTY AND
SENT TO JAIL

LIEUT. GOVERNOR E. BRANCH WILL TAKE CHARGE OF
EXECUTIVE OFFICE

FEDERAL PRISON TERM

Those in Close Touch with Case Expect Anderson to Give McCray the Limit. Will Resign

INDIANAPOLIS, April 29.—Emmett F. Branch, of Martinsville, lieutenant governor of Indiana, will become governor of the state within forty-eight hours.

Governor Warren T. McCray, convicted by a jury in federal court late yesterday of using the mails in a gi-gantic scheme to defraud, will resign, according to information obtained today from a source close to the governor.

He will not appeal his case but will serve the sentence to be imposed upon him by Judge Anderson Wednesday morning, it was said.

He will be taken to the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., on Thursday by United States Marshal Linus P. Meredith.

With these events the curtain will fall upon the final act in the turbulent administration of Governor Mc-Cray, according to reliable information today.

Chances of appeal in the federal court cast were regarded as slight.

Governor McCray is expected to abide by his statement to Republican leaders last fall that he would resign in the event he was convicted without standing upon his right to appeal.

McCray breakfasted in the county jail this morning on the regular jail rice, bread, coffee and molasses.

Although prisoners may send out for their food, Sheriff George Snider said the governor did not avail himself of the opportunity.

Along with the other prisoners Mc-Cray was awakened at 5 o'clock by deputy sheriffs. He made up his cot and ate his breakfast in the room, filled with the odor of jail disinfectants.

United States Marshal Meredith and a deputy sheriff removed the governor from the jail shortly before 10 o'clock.

He was taken to the marshal's office in the federal building.

Later, the governor was taken to his office in the state house to transact state business with deputy marshals standing guard over the office.

Warren T. McCray, governor of Indiana, was a prisoner in the bullpen of "Federal row" at the Marion county jail today.

Heartbroken and stunned by the verdict of the jury in federal court finding him guilty of fraudulent use of the mails, the governor was ordered to jail by Judge Anderson to await sentence Wednesday morning.

The governor spent the night in a room with eighty-four other prisoners.

From the moment he heard the reading of the verdict until the prison doors closed behind him shortly before 10 o'clock, McCray refused to make any comment on the case, or to indicate whether he would resign from the governorship.

Among his friends, however, it was reliably reported that he would voluntarily quit his office and turn the reins of government over to Emmett F. Branch, of Martinsville, lieutenant governor.

It was also stated on good authority that McCray would take no appeal from the decision of the jury in the United States District court here.

Governor McCray was found guilty of using the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud, by a jury in Federal Court here at 6:33 p. m. Monday. The case was given to the jury at 6:20.

Judge Anderson ordered McCray sent to the Marion County Jail. He will sentence McCray Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

The penalty provided by statute may be a fine of not to exceed $1000 or imprisonment for not more than the first of these resulted recently in a disagreement of the jury.

five years, or both, within the discretion of the court.

Gov. McCray's trial started in the United States District Court, before Judge Albert B. Anderson, Monday April 21. The jury was obtained within a few hours, and, after opening statements by both sides, the taking of evidence was started in the afternoon of the first day.

Approximately 150 witnesses, most of them bankers and McCray's employees and business associates, were called by the government. They identified a mass of correspondence with the Governor regarding notes "Cattle paper" and financial statements, sent to the banks through the mails.

Attorneys for the Governor based their defense on lack of intent of defraud. Gov. McCray, testifying in his own behalf, admitted signing the names of others to notes but contended his signature as indorser established his responsibility and he believed himself able financially to meet all of his obligations. He disclaimed any intention of attempting to defraud bankers to whom he sold the notes.

An indictment against McCray charging violation of the national banking laws and conspiracy to violate the national banking laws is still pending in the Federal Court.
Amos D. Morris, former cashier of the Discount and Deposit State Bank of Kentland, of which McCray was president until his financial collapse, was named jointly with the Governor on the conspiracy charge and pleaded guilty. He has not been sentenced.

The report of a federal master in chancery, who conducted a hearing on the petition of three Fort Wayne banks to have the Governor adjudged to bankrupt, is still in the hands of Judge Anderson.

Besides the federal indictments, McCray was named in fifteen true bills returned by the Marion County grand jury. The Governor's trial on

LOCUST STREET REVIVAL
GROWING IN INTEREST

Evangelist Lewis Is Meeting With Much Success In Meetings In Local Church.

A large congregation attended the Evangelist service at Locust Street M. E. Church last night. For a Monday night crowd, it was unusually large. Evangelist Lewis delivered a remarkable sermon on Christian Doctrines under the theme "From Hell to Heaven," steps to be taken. The music was largely congregational in its character. "The Old Rugged Cross" being a favorite. The children also took a prominent part. Miss Wilma Vandaveau sang a verse as a solo and she and Mrs. H. C. Clippinger sang a verse as a duet. The congregational music was a very enjoyable feature of the service. The Boys and Girls work grows in interest and attendance. About 500 or more are now members of the Sunshine Chorus and Band and they are having a great experience under the leadership of Evangelist Lewis. Nothing like his work has ever been presented here before and parents are urged to have their children get all the possible good out of these features of the evangelistic campaign by this notable and capable leader of gospel work.

The congregations are growing each night in size and general interest is also on the increase. The meeting is held as one of community interest and all church people are welcome.

Tonight Mr. Lewis speaks on "The Greatest Moving Picture of the Bible" Come out and hear him.

BOYS OF THE CITY GET CHANCE TO INSPECT INDUSTRIES
PART OF BOYS' WEEK

INTEREST IS MANIFESTED

Inspection Trip Over City Has Been Arranged With Business Men for Educational Values

Wednesday, April 30, is the day in which the Greencastle boys will be given a chance to inspect and work among the various industries in and around Greencastle.

The course of procedure for the day has been outlined by F. L. O'Hair and the boys will be given an opportunity to observe the different industries in their respective courses and all help possible on the part of the owners will be given in order that the boys may know what goes on in the course of a day at the Greencas-tle plants. A roll call will be taken at the city schools and all those will be taken, that a way of conveyance can be obtained for.

One of the special features for the day is a huge locomotive of the latest type which will be sent to this city from the Monon plants and will be placed on the siding at the Barnaby Mills. The boys will be allowed to inspect the train and those who are interested in such work at the High School will be allowed to inspect the locomotive in connection with their school work. Many of the local business houses will be visited by the boys and a special request of the business men is that they hold open house and help them in any way as to how the business problems are handled. The boys will be permitted to ask questions and the business men are requested to answer the best possible.

Among the many other industrial plants that are to be inspected are the Indiana Portland Cement Plant, the American Zinc Products Company, the Barnaby Mills, Bittles Handle Factory. The Greencastle Telephone Company, Greencastle Water Works Company, Wabash Valley Electric Company, Midwest Crushed Stone Company, Harris Milling Company, Gardner Bros. Ice Plant, Luteke Bakery, and the Trembly-Williams Wholesale House. At the plants of the various industries the boys will be able to watch the industries in full swing and be instructed as to the modern industrial facilities that Greencastle affords.

COMMISSION MET TODAY
PARIS, April 29.—The reparations commission met today and considered the allied government's replies on the expert's reports and discussed whom they should nominate on the organization committees.

It is believed the commission will be forced to mark time as far as acting on the government's replies is concerned until the results of negotiations by Premier Theunis of Belgium with Premier Poincare of France and MacDonald of Great Britain become known.

Despite secrecy as to details of yesterday's Franco-Belgian conversations, it has leaked out that Poincare and Theunis agreed in principle upon a compromise which will permit a continued united front by these countries as far as the Ruhr is concerned. Military occupation will be continued in some form even though the experts plan is put in operation.

It is understood Theunis urged that occupation eventually be modified towards "invisibility." He proposed occupation of vital centers only in case the Germans executed the plan with good will.

The Belgian premier is believed to have secured promises of concessions from Poincare which will enable him to bring the French and British viewpoints appreciably closer when he has a talk with Premier MacDonald over the week end.

Dr. W. M. Blanchard left Greencastle Monday for Springfield, Mass., where he will attend the Methodist Episcopal Church Conference as representative of the Northwest Indiana Conference.

Coach James N. Ashmore and the DePauw basketball team traveled to Crawfordsville today where the Tigers met the Wabash nine this afternoon. "Pete" Vaughan has a strong aggregation but it was thought by many that the Old Gold team would snatch the contest away from the Scarlet.

Mrs. J. E. Courtney, Mrs. O. E.
Badger and Mrs. Theodore Crawley spent Tuesday in Gosport where they attended a group meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society.

government of Indiana, as the last house when he formally signed the resignation.

The resignation became effective

Ed Jackson.

The governor walked slowly from his office after signing his resigna-

Creek Boulevard for his last visit with his family. He was to return to jail at four o'clock to await his sentence tomorrow morning. U. S.

MEETING OF
INTEREST HELD
MONDAY NIGHT

HIGH SCHOOL PARENT-TEACH-ERS' ASSOCIATION WAS IN SESSION

DEMONSTRATION GIVEN

Manual Training Students Under Prof. Knight Go Through Class Room Work for Visitors

At the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association on Monday night, the school patrons were very delightfully entertained by the Manual Training Department under the direction of the instructor, B. A. Knight.
Mr. Knight's proteges went through their regular daily work, some in the drawing process, some in the construction, and others in the finishing.
The work was instructive as well as a means of entertainment for the teachers as well as the parents. Even though the teachers are in the building a great deal of the time, opportunities for seeing the workings of departments other than their own are quite rare.

The boys assembled as though for a regular class and began work. A few scattering visitors came in early, but when the Association as a body came down the boys were all at work, even to the tool-room custodian.

After the visitors had passed through the work room and the finishing room and into the drawing and lecture room, Mr. Knight gave a talk in regard to the work. Mr. Knight is to be commended on his splendid work in the Manual Training Department.
He is giving the boys a very thorough course which is one of the best, and is, the only one of its kind in the state. The boys after taking this course are prepared to put out some remarkably fine work, and much of it is put out in the process of the course; as evidence of the trophy cabinet which has recently been installed in the corridor.

After the session in the Woodworking Department, the Association adjournd to the study hall for the business session.

FRENCHMAN IS PLANE MARVEL

PARIS, April 29.—France is jubilarious over the flying stunt of Lieut.
Pellier D'Oisy who has already out-flown both the British and American round the world fliers, having left Paris but last Thursday.

After fighting terrible storms in the Persian Gulf and experiencing untold difficulties in piloting his big Broegut plane over the Mesopotamian desert, the gallant Frenchman has arrived at Bandar Abbas, on the Persian gulf. He is only a few hundred miles from Major MacLaren, British round the world flier, whose plane is damaged and down in the Sind desert.

JACKSON HERE TONIGHT
Ed Jackson, Republican candidate for nomination for governor, will ning at eight o'clock. Accompanying Mr. Jackson's party will be a

POLICE TAKE PRECAUTIONS

FEAR MAY DAY OUTBREAK IN NEW YORK FROM ANARCHISTS

NEW YORK, April 29.—Police are preparing to throw a special guard around public buildings, churches and prominent persons in fear of a possible radical outbreak May 1, following arrest of a newly-arrived Hungarian immigrant, armed with a dynamite bomb and a revolver.

The man was taken in custody near the home of the late Charles F. Murphy, Tammany Hall leader, at a time when many prominent men were visiting the house.

While the possibility of a May day outbreak was considered remote, it was said "every precaution will be taken."

FORMER RESIDENT DIES

The following clipping from the Tacoma, Washington, Ledger has been received in Greencastle by friends of the deceased who will be quite well remembered in Greencastle:

Mrs. Flora Manlove Bridges, 62, a resident of Tacoma for 36 years, died Thursday afternoon, April 17, at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs.
Neledine Bridges, 318 North Yakima avenue. She was the wife of the late Charles S. Bridges, former widely known Tacoma.

Mrs. Bridges came to Tacoma with her husband in 1888, when Mr.
Bridges became connected with the old Washington National Bank. They came from Indiana, both being graduates from DePauw University. Mrs.
Bridges was a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. She had been active and prominent in social and church circles in Tacoma.

She is survived by her daughter, Miss Catherine Bridges; her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Neledine Bridges, and one grandson, William Bridges, both of Tacoma. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

DEATH OF MRS. N. POTTER

The death of Mrs. Nancy Jane Potter, aged 76 years, occurred at one o'clock Friday morning, April 25, her home for the past ten years.

PRES. GROSE LEAVES FOR
SPRINGFIELD

SPEAKES IN CHAPEL THIS MORNING ON HIS TWO DISAP-POINTMENTS AS PRESIDENT

PLEDGES LIFE SERVICE

Dr. H. B. Longden Now Is Acting Head of DePauw
University

"My message to the seniors and to all of the students is to keep faith with the institution, with your parents, and with the public," said President George Richmond Grose this morning at chapel period, speaking before the students and faculty in his last appearance before the assembly as such. He left today for Springfield, Mass., where he will attend the Methodist Episcopal Church Conference which will convene during the month of May. President Grose said that he hoped to return to Greencastle for the President's Reception to the seniors on the evening of May 24th.
He will also be present for baccalaureate and commencement services.

The talk this morning had a touch of sadness in it. Dr. Grose reiterated what he has said before, that he has had two disappointments come to him as president of DePauw University. They were that he was deprived of many of the personal pleasures which are supposed to be that of a college president and the second disappointment was his lack of personal contact with the students; that relationship which would make dearer to him the students of DePauw.

With a tear in his eye, Dr. Grose turned the reigns of the institution into the able hands of vice-president H. B. Longden, stating that although his sojourn would be comparatively brief in comparison to his trip to China of several years ago, he went with the same determination—to always serve DePauw University.

PUTNAM COUNTY SCHOLARS IN INDIANA UNIVERSITY CELE-BRATION AT BLOOMINGTON

ANNIVERSARY AFFAIR

Over 5,000 Students, Faculty and Visitors Will Be at State University on Day and Night

BLOOMINGTON, April 29.—Commemorating the 100th anniversary of the opening of Indiana University for classroom work, students from Putnam county and from every county of the state will engage in a centennial celebration here May 7, which will include a historical pageant and the placing of a marker on the site of the first building of the university.

A crowd of 5000 students, faculty members, and visitors is expected for the pageant which will be held in the open air amphitheatre late in the afternoon. Preceding the pageant, a morning convocation is scheduled at which President William L. Bryan will be the principal speaker. Exercises will be held at 3 p. m. in connection with the placing of the marker. Secretary John W. Cravens heads the committee in charge of the centennial ceremonies and will speak at the early afternoon meeting.

The pageant produced here in 1916 by William Chauncy Langdon will be repeated in part and will deal with the opening of the old Seminary in 1824, the inauguration of Dr. Andrew Wylie as first president, and the "spirit of Indiana." As far as possible, descendants of Dr. Wylie and of other early faculty members will play their parts in the pageant.
Nearly 200 students and faculty will make up the cast of the historical presentation. Members of the Indiana Historical Society and descendants of the first ten boys to enter the university will be honored guests.

The enrollment list of the university on the campus at Bloomington and Indianapolis will reach 5500 for this year, while the extension division is serving approximately 100,000 Indiana citizens in various ways. Among the students enrolled at the university for the present semester are twenty-

NEGRO BURGLAR SHOT

CHICAGO, April 29.—An unidentified negro burglar was shot to death in the home of Bertram Kendall here early today when he alarmed the household by stepping on the hand of a child. Kendall himself killed the man with one lead from a shotgun.

The negro stepped on the hand of Leona, 11. She awoke with a scream and startled the other ten Kendall children. The chorus of screams brought Kendall with a shotgun and he chased the burglar through several rooms before getting a chance at a clear shot.

SENIORS TO GIVE PLAY

A FULL HOUSE TO BE PRESENTED BY HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS

As a result of the theft of a ruby necklace, belonging to Mrs. John Pembroke, wealthy social leader, and valued at $30,000, there was A FULL HOUSE in Hoboken. The jewels were traced to the apartments of Mrs. Fleming which were occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Hoell, married only three days. Mr. Hoell, Ned Pembroke, whose mother had the jewels stolen from her, and all other occupants of the house are under suspicion and cannot leave until the jewels are recovered.

Daphne, Mrs. Howell's sister, and her aunt, Miss Winnecker, are also held. When Mr. Howell tried to prove his innocence by the fact that he was in Cincinnati, it was found that he was in Boston, the scene of the theft. Nicholas King, who says he is a detective, Parks, the butler, and Susie Spong, the maid, are also in the tangle. The police are busy trying to solve the mystery. As no one has been allowed to leave THE FULL HOUSE, the necklace must be in the apartments.

This is the plot of the class play, to be given by the Senior Class on Thursday and Friday, May 8 and 9. The farce was written by Fred Jackson and is a Samuel French production. The part of Parks, an English servant, is taken by Harold Stewart and that of Susie, the maid, from Sioux City, by Gertrude Mathews. Both parts are very clever. Ottily Howell, the young bride, is played by Helen Hester. Miss Winnecker, her aunt, from Yonkers, is taken by Ruth Davis and Margaret McLean plays the part of Daphne Charters, the sister of the bride. Perhaps one of the cleverest parts of the whole play is that of Nicholas King, a stranger, in a class by himself. Arnold Tilden does full justice to this role. Ned Pembroke, Jr., an only son, is played by Stanley Young and John Brothers is George Howell, the bridegroom. Wilbur Schmitt takes the part of Dougherty, the police sergeant, Emmett Burkhalter of Jim Mooney, a policeman, and Estle White, another. Mrs. Fleming, who owns the apartment, is Mary McNeely. Martha Allee plays the part of Vera Vernon, a Boston show girl. The part of Mrs. Pembroke is played by Imogene Mullins.

Frank McCammack was arrested Monday night on a charge of intoxication, and placed in jail. He was tried before Mayor Charles F. Zies Tuesday morning and fined $5 and costs.

Mrs. Elizabeth Julian, of this city, was called to Nashville, Tennessee, today by the serious illness of her son James who is attending the Medical School there. Mr. Julian had been sick for some time but his condition grew rapidly worse during the past few days.

NO PACIFISTS
CHICAGO, April 29.—Methodist ministers of Chicago are for peace, but not for the pacifism of non-resistance.

In a conference in the Chicago Temple late yesterday the ministers voted to memorialize the Methodist general conference in Springfield, Mass., May 1, to go on record against the things that make for war.

YOUTH IS BADLY CUT
ENGLISH, Ind., April 29.—Frank Baylor, 16, was horribly mutilated when he fell against a cutoff saw driven by a gasoline engine.

His right arm was cut off at the elbow, part of his right hip was slashed off and a deep gash was cut in his abdomen.

It is believed he will recover.

MARINES ARE USED TO LAND FIGHTS

THEIR RECENT DUTY IN HONDURAS RECALLS EARLIER EXPLOITS IN KOREA.

By EDWARD B. CLARKE

Washington.—Down in Honduras where there has been a revolution, or at any rate a pretty stiff kind of a war between two political factions, American marines and sailors were landed the other day to protect American interests. As usual they were fired on, but the navy men of the United States are used to this sort of thing.

Within the last seven or eight years dozens of stories have been written about the marines of the United States navy, and what they did at Belleau Wood and elsewhere during the World War. Some persons have said that the marines were over-advertised. It was not a case of over-advertising the marines, but possibly it was a case at times of under-advertising the units of the United States army which at Belleau Wood fought shoulder to shoulder with the soldiers of the sea service.

This Honduras affair brings to mind the fact that American marines, and frequently the bluejackets with them, have been compelled time after time to land on foreign shores to engage in fights and generally to run into dangers in behalf of good order. Most of these things in which the sea forces have been engaged on land could not be anticipated.

When They Landed in Korea.

The landing at Honduras brings to mind a landing years ago in Korea, which then was not under the control and direction of the Japanese government. At the time of the war between China and Japan Lieut. George F. Elliott with 21 marines and 29 sailors made a hurry-up march from Chemulpo to Seoul in Korea in order to protect the American consulate and the missionaries at that place.

At that time Elliott was attached to the U. S. S. Baltimore. News came to the ship that the Koreans had raised the cry, "Korea for the Koreans," and were about to massacre all the foreigners at the Korean capital. Admiral McNair ordered Lieutenant Elliott and his little command to take up "double time" across country to save the missionaries.

It is probable that few military bodies ever were asked to engage in such a drive as that turned out to be. The ship's detachment which went overland in Honduras the other day had a hard time of it, but the Korean double-time march of the marines and sailors rather shadows other things of the same general nature. It was so hot that the marines, instead of listening to gullible tales from the sailors, as the proverb makes them do, told the sailors later that on that trip their belt buckles melted in the sun.

Nearly the whole line of the march was through submerged rice fields, the men being up to their knees in water half the time, with their footprints clogged by the plant roots and stems. Under these conditions they made progress at the rate of five miles an hour and they reached their destination in time to perform the service for which the order for the march had been issued.

Schley, Too, Fought There.

It was in Korea, away back just after the Civil War, that the late Rear Admiral Schley, then a young naval officer, led a mixed party of marines and sailors on a most dangerous fighting errand. The sailors and their marine mates had a hand-to-hand fight on that occasion with the enemy, but they won the day, although they lost a considerable number in dead and wounded.

It was not so many years ago that the Lieutenant Elliott who commanded the marines and sailors in the Korean march and who had been promoted to a general's rank, was in charge of a land force on the Isthmus of Panama. This was before the building of the canal, and a revolution was on in the isthmian country. The revolutionists made an attempt to blow Elliott and his command off the face of the isthmus with dynamite. The general, who had just one private of marines with him at the time, jumped on a revolutionist just as he was about to light the fuse which would set the dynamite off. Elliott had many narrow escapes but this was about the closest.

In this particular tale drawn out of the past about the marines and the sailors it is hard work to get away from George F. Elliott. After he had fought against the Spaniards in Cuba he was sent to the Philippines where, while in command of a force of about 300 marines, he attacked an insurgent body which was entrenched about the town of Noveleta. The marines went at their work in an almost joyous spirit and the fact that they were going against a danger the magnitude of which was absolutely unknown, had no effect on their buoyancy. They won the victory by sheer force of brute strength and man courage.

Just after the fight the sun did for Elliott what bullets had been unable to do. While he was on duty a sunstroke knocked him senseless and he was invalided home.

TWO RACES OF INTEREST

DEMOCRATS WARMING UP ON RACE FOR JUDGE AND SHERIFF

With only another week before the primary election, the few candidates who are seeking nomination in the state as well as in this county, are very busy and are beating the bushes for votes on May 6.

There are only two races in the county which are creating any interest. They are the judgeship and sheriff's races. With Judge James P. Hughes and John H. James each seeking the Democratic nomination for judge, the interest has been increased considerably during the past week or two until it has gotten to be quite a warm race. There are three candidates seeking the nomination for sheriff on the Democratic ticket.

They are Roy Brackney, Will Glidewell and Gilbert Pritchard, and all are said to be well up in the race. Indications point to a more evenly divided vote than in any race that has been staged in a primary election in Putnam county in many years.

Just what the outcome of the race between Judge Hughes and John James will be, is the big puzzle. Both candidates as well as their supporters believe each will be nominated, but because of the apparent lack of interest in the primary on the part of the voters. One can talk to scores of men and women on the down town streets and unless a candidate is met, no politics is mentioned. Even the candidates are at a loss to explain this condition on the part of the voters and unless something turns up to interest them more than anything thus far, a light vote will be cast on May 6.

Jackson Here Tonight

Ed Jackson, republican candidate for governor, will speak at Greencastle this evening, speaking in the court house at eight o'clock. Indications from over the state would tend to show that Jackson is one of the leading candidates for the Republican nomination. It is conceded by some that the race will be between Jackson, Shank and Toner, but so far no one is able to say which will come out ahead. Hardly anyone expects either of the candidates to receive a majority of the votes and be nominated, but it is said that the leader will have the edge when the state convention ballots for the nomination.

Delta Theta Tau Dance American Legion Hall Friday May 2. Good music. $1.50 per couple. 29-4t

Thursday, April 24, was the last day of school at the Oakalla school and it was made a Red Letter day for the teacher and pupils by the patrons. At first it was planned to have a big surprise dinner at the noon hour then it was found by this arrangement that the fathers and big brothers could not attend so the surprise part was left out and all were asked to stay at the building for a six o'clock picnic dinner. During the interval between the dismissal of classes and the serving of the dinner, the time was spent in playing games on the lawn by both the old and the young boys and girls. It was even whispered around that Aunt Eva Torr and Aunt Mary Torr engaged in a waltz.

Three long tables, the full length of the room were spread with all the good things the season affords and the ywre were fixed up in the most dainty and tasty styles that the good cooks of Madison township could prepare. Before the feast began Mrs. W. L. Torr in a most impressive manner invoked the Divine blessing on the assembly.

After the tables were cleared away a very interesting program of music, readings and dialogues was given by the pupils. Then more games were played and all seemed reluctant to depart for their homes. Some of the patrons said the games on the lawn were continued long after they had returned home and retired.

A unanimous vote was given by the pupils and patrons for the return of Miss Lola Neese, the teacher, whose home is at Manhattan. There were about twenty-two pupils in the school, with about all of the grades from the primary to the eighth grade pupils.

Sooner or later for everyone the road descends into the valley that leads to the silent river. The boat for us draws near and lo, the boatman cometh with outstretched hand. He beckons us. He is a messenger. He has been sent. Death himself is only a voice from out the deep. It is Christ and He is calling us. Without a fear we comfort our loved ones and tell them not to be afraid for we say: "He hath called us and we will answer him, the deep calleth unto the deep."

Henry Clay, the youngest son of Issac and Sarah Storms, was born November 20, 1861, on a farm in Putnam county, near Fillmore, where he spent practically all his life time. He passed to his eternal rest April 18, 1924, at the Putnam County Hospital, where he, his wife and daughter Edith were taken following an automobile collision on the National road. He was 62 years, 4 months and 28 days of age at the time of his death.

While his early education was limited to rural school, throughout his life time he was an earnest student, being especially interested in the Bible History, and the current topics of the day. One of his last gifts was a modern translation of the four gospels.

He was united in marriage to Margaret Minerva Goss, April 16, 1885. To this union were born seven children, Alpha, wife of Clyde Buntin; Edith, wife of Charles Cline; Ida, Horace, Nellie, wife of Fred Heaven, Horace, Nellie, wifeC 9thel Noble and Fred. The family circle was broken September 10, 1920, when God called Fred to be with Him.

At the age of fifteen or sixteen he united with Bethel Baptist church of which he was a constant and devoted member, serving in the capacity of Sunday school superintendent, teacher, clerk, moderator, and many other offices. He was untiring in his efforts to promote the cause of the church in the community. His home was always open to ministerial guests, co-workers in the church and his many other friends.

He was made a Mason, December 12, 1891, and was a charter member of the Eastern Star. Throughout these long years he was a faithful member. He was always loyal and true to their principles. He served the Masonic lodge as secretary for many years. During this time he had missed very few meetings.

As a citizen, he was actively interested in civic affairs. He took great pride in the progress of the country. He was one of the promoters of the first improved roads in this community.

Henry, as he was called by his neighbors, was ever ready to respond to the call for help, never failing to give aid in time of trouble or sorrow. He will be keenly missed by all who knew him and loved him.

In the family circle he was devoted to his companion. Since the departure of their children one by one to other homes, they have lived in sweet bliss with each other enjoying each hour to the utmost. As a father, he was kind and considerate of his family and ever interested in their welfare. One of his highest ambitions was to secure a good education for his children.

He leaves to mourn his loss, the wife, four daughters, two sons, two daughters-in-law, three sons-in-law, thirteen grandchildren many other relatives and a host of friends.

I walk in sadness alone Beside Time's flowing river, Their steps I trace upon the sand Who wandered with me hand in hand, But now are gone forever.
Upon that river dark and deep My boat will soon be tossing, By earth's sounds growing faint and low,
By mists that blind mine eyes, I know I must be near the crossing,
And so I walk with silent tread Beside Time's flowing river,—
And then the splashing of the oar That bears me to my summer shore
To be with friends forever.CARD OF THANKSWe wish to express our sincere thanks to our relatives, friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown during our recent bereavement in the loss of our dear husband and father, H. LOCAL MAN IS SUCCESSFUL

HOWARD HIGGINS HAS DEVELOPED DEBATE TEAM
IN THE WEST

"The Branding Iron," the college publication at the University of Wyoming, Laramie, in its issue of April 23, had a lengthy write up of a big chapel and holiday celebration enjoyed by the college as a result of its winning a large number of victories in various athletic and college activities.

The Branding Iron in commenting on the celebration said in part:

"Talks by President Crane, Fred Parks, Coach Higgins, Coach McConnell, Jack and Jim Lynch and stunts by the winning teams, comprised one of the most interesting assemblies of the year.

"The assembly opened with President Crane introducing Coach Higgins of the debating team. The stunt which the debating team then presented was an original and highly amusing travesty on the system used by Wyoming in the use of faculty criticism in debate. The clever argument and the remarkably truthful portrayal of the eccentricities of the faculty members represented kept the large audience in a continual uproar.

Jim Lynch introduced the Cowboy matmen to the audience and after commenting upon the excellent work of each of the wrestlers, he expressed great hopes for Wyoming's continued success in boxing and wrestling. Coaches Jack and Jim Lynch have been largely responsible for the success achieved by Wyoming on the mat in the past year. Jim Lynch not only generously provided training quarters for the wrestling and boxing teams but spent a great deal of money in putting the place in shape and also spent many hours with the men in getting them in condition."

Mr. Higgins is a son of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Higgins of this city and is a graduate of DePauw with the class of 1922. The Messrs. Lynch named in the article are also well known here, being son-in-law and grandson of Mrs. W. P. Stoner, living west of the city.

INSCRIPTIONS ON EL MORRO ROCK

FAMOUS "STONE AUTOGRAPH ALBUM" OF NATIONAL MONU-MENT IN NEW MEXICO.

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—Up to the present time 29 national monuments have been established by presidential proclamation. They are administered as part of the national park system by the Department of the Interior through the mediumship of the national park service. These monuments preserve for the people of the United States historic and prehistoric structures and other objects of historic and scientific interest.

The Interior department is issuing a series of descriptive articles concerning these national monuments. The stories of the monuments seem in the main to have a picturesque interest.

The El Morro national monument, in western central New Mexico, contains an enormous varicolored sandstone rock rising about 200 feet out of a lava-strewn valley and eroded in such fantastic forms as to give it the appearance of a great castle. On its smooth faces are the inscriptions of five of the early Spanish governors of New Mexico, as well as of many intrepid padres and soldiers who were among the first Europeans to visit this part of the world.

Lying as it did on the first highway in New Mexico, the Zuni-Acoma trail, this rock sheltered as a true fortress many parties whose course took them this way. The shape of the giant monolith is such that an expedition of soldiers could find protection within the cave on the south side in which was located the water so necessary to the traveler in those days. Here with a few out-guards on the one exposed side no successful surprise attack could have been made by hostile Indians.

Onate's Visit in 1606 Recorded.

The earliest inscription on the rock is that of Don Juan de Onate, governor and colonizer of New Mexico and founder of the city of Santa Fe, who in 1606 on his return from a trip to the head of the Gulf of California passed by El Morro and carved a record of his visit.

The inscription of Gov. Manuel de Silva Nieto, who succeeded Onate and who took the first missionaries to Hawiku where a mission was established, reads: "I am the captain-general of the province of New Mexico for the King our Lord. Passed by here on return from the towns of Zuni on the 29th of July of the year 1629 and he put them in peace upon their petition, asking him his favor as vassals of his majesty, and anew they gave their obedience; all of which he did with clemency, zeal and prudence as such most Christian (not plain here) most extraordinary and gallant soldier of unending and praised memory."

The party accompanying Silva Nieto was made up of 400 cavalry and 10 wagons. This additional paragraph is added to the inscription: "They passed on the 23d of March of 1632 year to the avenging of the death of Father Letrado."—Lujan.

Lujan, who signed this inscription, had reference to this trip with other soldiers from the garrison in Santa Fe to Hawiku, where the padre was murdered by Zuni Indians, who scalped him February 22, 1632, just 100 years before George Washington was born.

De Vargas Inscription.

The De Vargas inscription of 1692 is of historical importance. Translated it reads: "Here was the General Don Diego de Vargas who conquered for our Holy Faith and Royal Crown all of New Mexico at his own expense year 1692." De Vargas reconquered the Pueblo Indians after their bloody rebellion in 1680 and succeeded in bringing many colonists from Spain to take up homes in this country. He lies buried under the altar of the parish church in Santa Fe.

Lieut. J. H. Simpson, afterward General Simpson, accompanied by the artist, R. H. Kern, were the first Americans to see these inscriptions and bring them to the attention of the public. They visited El Morro and copied the inscriptions in 1849, leaving a record of their own visit on the rock.

The last Spanish inscription, of which there are over fifty, was dated 1774. Thus for 168 years El Morro was a regular camping place of parties whose business it was to maintain Spanish rule over the Pueblo Indians of this section. Carving of names by present visitors is strictly prohibited, with a heavy fine and imprisonment provided by law for violations, in order that the records of the most famous "Stone Autograph Album" in the world may be preserved. The monument contains 240 acres and was first set aside in 1906. On the top of the rock there are some ruins of ancient dwellings which can be reached by trail.

The monument is reached from Gallup, N. M., on the Santa Fe railroad and National Old Trails road. West-bound motorists, however, may leave the highway at Grants and follow a new road which goes through San Rafael, one of the largest strictly Spanish towns in the state, then skirts the foothills of the Zuni mountains and passes Agua Fria draw. From there on the road is through a grove of pines, bordered on the left hand by a great rough lava bed rising to mountains in places and falling into unknown dark crevices and canyons in others.

H. S. Notes

The baseball men will go on from their game this afternoon to one with Bloomington here Friday afternoon. Their form is improving and Coach Rhea is expecting a good comeback.

The Dramatics Class under Wm. O'Neil is doing some excellent work. The purpose of this work is not to make actors and actresses for the stage, but is for the purpose of giving the students an appreciation of good dramatics. They have been working on many plays of the very best type. Some of the plays that they have completed are "A Broken Engagement," "First Aid to the Wounded," and "The Pipers Pay." Next Tuesday morning this class will give a program for the chapel exercises.

The regular weekly chapel was held this morning. Music, and plans for Boys' Week filled the program. Mr. Kelly presented, with a formal speech, three instruments of fine quality, made by the Conn Company, to the High School for the High School Band. The instruments are fine pieces of work, silver plated with gold bells, and engraved.

There was a double Bass Tuba, a circular Alto and a Baritone. Mr. Sloane will give the Baritone its initial workout tonight when he plays a number over the radio from WLAX for the boys' week program. He will also present one of his own compositions which will be played by his daughter, Edgarda. The boys and their dads in the High School gym will be given the use of a radio for the evening and will hear the program from the local station. The boys are expecting to have a whaling big time tonight.

The elections are over and the council will soon name the school board, police officials and other officers.

One of our local boys, a junior in the High school, is soon to exhibit seven of his own oil paintings in Greencastle. Gilbert Reeves, art editor of the Ink Pot has seven landscape views ready and will put them on exhibition soon.

Special chapel was held today from 1 to 1:30 o'clock. Dr. Dye, a returned missionary from Africa, gave a half hour talk on his experiences which was very interesting. He has spent twenty-five years in that continent.

LION OF WATERLOO TOPPLING

Glory of the Old Battlefield Eclipsed by Events of the World War.

The great lion on the field of Waterloo is reported in danger of collapse. The base upon which it rests is in ruins.

The battlefield of more than a century ago has been forgotten by most people in the rush to the new field of glory. Where Napoleon and Wellington contended does not concern the tourists who want to see where Foch and Hindenburg were making their fame.

And the lion has lasted much longer than either the Corsican or the Englishman, neither of whom had another claim upon the attention of the world, observes the Fort Worth Telegram.

The poet Shelley sang the requiem of all the glory of night in the picture of a crumbled statue half covered with sand, bearing the inscription: "My name is Oz-mandias, king of kings;

Look on my works, ye mighty and despair; Nothing beside remains.
Of that colossal wreck, boundless and bare,
The lone and level sands stretch far away."

The lion of Waterloo, the lion of military fame, rests on a foundation that crumbles with time. Why patch it up?

AGRICULTURE

More than ten millions of our people are actively engaged in agriculture. They comprise 26.3 per cent of all persons over ten years of age engaged in a gainful occupation. Our farms represent more than one-fourth of our total national wealth. The value of our farm products in a single year is 40 per cent of that of our manufactured products—and the latter include many finished items which left the farm as raw material. Thirty-one per cent of all our exports in 1921, in terms of value, were food products of the farm.—Walter W. Head, President American Bankers Association.

WHO DO YOU THINK GOT THE JOB?

On the bench in the ante room sat two young men—each about eighteen—and each waiting to see the office manager about a job. One was a manly, well-dressed youth—the other's habits were revealed by his ill-fitting, badly-pressed suit, wrinkled tie and ungainly shoes.

If you were office manager, experience and ability being equal—which would you select for this job? Of course you would.

Cattle trading was only moderately active, but a downward trend, predicted by some traders Monday, failed to appear. Holders of heifers experienced some difficulty in finding buyers. Receipts were 1,200.
